Re: Web Application Developer at TWG

Dear Hiring Manager,

About Me

I am an optimistic person. I like to collaborate with others on projects, as I truly enjoy the atmosphere of helping each other, being open-minded, transparent, and growing together. Meanwhile I also enjoy working independently, as this allows me to work on solutions with great focus.

Why TWG?

I learned of the opportunity through Erika Pierre via the FITC Slack channel, and I feel the job description aligns well with my skills. I was impressed with Erika's kindheartedness and willingness to help. I researched TWG online, and I was immediately attracted - talented, caring colleagues, great management, and transparent policies. I believe TWG is my next dream employer and I am very interested in being a part of this incredible team.

Why Me?

I have 2+ years full-time experience with AngularJS and Angular 8 framework. I am interested in learning more about React and related technologies, and Vue.js. I learned Redux can help with state management in React, and state management is very important. I am able to create API services in Node.js. Currently I am improving my CSS3 skills by working on Responsive Web Design Certification via freeCodeCamp. After completing this certification, my next goal is to complete Front End Libraries Certification, where I am able to gain experience of React and Redux. I am tool-flexible and appreciate continuous learning and professional growth. I think I would be a good fit for TWG given my personality and technical skills.

Sincerely,

Alice (Aili) Zou
